RELIEF ASSOCIATIONS. DELIEF FOR THE SICK!

How often does it happen that a whole family is brought to the point of misery through sickness of their provider, the husband and the father—he being unable in such a state to labor for the means of support, and they, being too proud to ask for assistance in time, are exhausting all their little means for medicines and doctors' fees, and at last means for medicines and doctors' fees, and at last there is nothing remaining but utter despondency. All this can be avoided by paying in good times a small amount to the fund of the SOUTHERN MUTHAL BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION for the relief of the sick.

Every sick member receives, by paying $2.50 taif annually, $5 every week when sick; or by paying $5, $10 every week, no matter whether the disease is derived from accident or any other cause. The premiums are put so low as to enable even the poorest man to join this benevolent association.

LOCAL MATTERS.

The Oakwood Memorial and Deco ration Day.

The ladies of the Oakwood Memorial Association on yesterday paid their annual tri-bute to the memory of the Confederate dead interred in the cemetery under their particuar care.

The day was as bright and beautiful as a southern heart could wish for the noble work, and the ladies and children-many of them bearing flowers-thronged the avenues lead ing to Oakwood. True, the crowd was by no neans so large as that which annually visits Hollywood, but still it is estimated that not less than two or three thousand persons were on the ground during the day. They were constantly going and coming, in carriages, on horseback, and afoot, from about 10 o'clock in the morning until the shades of night began

The Board of Managers and invited guests left St. John's church a little before noon, and were followed by a large number of persons who had assembled at the same place laden with such floral offerings as they could procure. Arrived at the cemetery, the crowd dispersed, and the flowers were soon distri-buted, but owing to the backwardness of the season these were few, and many graves of the known as well as of the unknown dead Thomas Potts, recording secretary; John Tywere left without even a sprig or a bud to show that they were not forgotten.

Among the graves that seemed to have received unusual attention at the hands of the ladies we noticed that of Major J. W. Adams of the Forty-fourth Georgia regiment, who seems to have been favorably known to the people of Church Hill during the days of war. The monument near the gate was handsomel festooned and crowned with a wreath of ever-

There was no speaking during the day, nor any noisy demonstration, as the ladies thought best, while showing their affection for the dead, to do nothing whatever that might be construed as evidence of a desire to keep bare old wounds, or that might be used to the prejudice of the living. It was a quiet, popular demonstration, and the Sabbath stillness that prevailed was not the only feature of the obervance that gave it, to the spectator, the appearance of a religious rite.

THE ALLEGED OUTRAGES UPON THE DEAL AT MALVERN HILL .- The publication of the statement that the bones of the Confederate dead at Malvern Hill have been plowed up and a part of them burned has created considerable excitement among the ladies of Richmond, who have in the past been so attentive to our fallen braves

At a meeting held at the cemetery yester-day the ladies of the Oakwood Association resolved to investigate the matter at once, and made an appropriation to carry out the ob-ject. Steps will at once be taken to gather the scattered remains of our dead, and to inter them in one of our city cemeteries. It is to be hoped that the Hollywood ladies will join in the work, and that our young men will also volunteer assistance. The managers of the Oakwood Association will in a few days make a formal announcement of their plans. In the mean time let us indulge the hope that the reports of these outrages are greatly exagge-

CITY COUNCIL .- The City Council met in regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon. The various committees presented reports, but they were generally not of sufficient importance to record, in view of the crowded state of our columns. Junk Dealers.—The Committee on Finance reported an ordinance imposing a class tax of $300 and a license tax of $300 on junk dealers.

The ordinance was laid on the table for print-Foress from the Theatre .- A resolution Was offered by Mr. Dunham authorizing the Mayor to inspect the Theatre with a view to pro-viding means for a safe egress in case of fire or accident, and to close the building until such means had been, if not already, taken Adopted. Other matters were disposed of, and the Council adjourned.

A SAD CASE OF DROWNING.—Yesterday afternoon, as a son of Major Isaac H. Carrington, of this city, was fishing with some other boys on Mayo's bridge, he fell from one of the pillars, and was drowned before assistance could be called. At a late hour last evening his body had not been recovered, but efforts were being made in that direction. The little fellow was about thirteen years of age. His

During the afternoon several parties were playing with the dog, and he turned and bit three of them. Mr. John F. Meenly, an old gentleman of sixty years, was bitten on the wrist; Theodore Wardwell, son of the Superintendent, was bitten on the thumb; and little Walter Wardwell, another son, was bitten on the forelinger. Mr. Meenly was the first one bitten, and was patting the dog on the head at the time. The others, thinking to conciliate him, patted him also; but he bit at them as flercely as in the first instance. No care was ston, Esq., (the president) in the chair; John given the matter until Sunday morning, when it was discovered that the dog was rabidly mad. He was immediately killed, and those who had been bitten were put under medical supervision. The anxiety of their parents and relatives is almost excruciating. CHARGED WITH COMPLICITY IN THE HOLMES MURDER.-Yesterday morning Jack Watkins a very respectable colored man, was arraigned before Mayor Chahoon charged with complicity in the murder of Joseph Holmes at Charlotte Courthouse.

From the evidence of Joe Cox and Edward Nelson it appeared that Watkins had stated to them, in conversation, that young Mar-shall, of Charlotte Courthouse, and a young man named Richardson, of the same place, had stayed at his house from Wednesday night at 12 o'clock until 1 o'clock on Friday mornsaid, must have been by the time he made the statement in Boston. At that time he did not know of the murder, or else he would not have allowed them to stay at his house. They were both old playmates of his, and he had been raised with them. They were great friends, and generally stopped with him when they came to the city. They were liberal with him, and when they left they gave his wite twenty dollars, and his boy one dollar for car-

ROBBERT OF A TOBACCO FACTORY .- On Saturday evening at $2 o'clock the tobacco fac-tory of J. B. Pace, on Twenty-second street between Main and Franklin, was broken into and robbed of thirteen caddies of tobacco The thieves effected an entrance by climbing to the top of an engine-house in the rear of the factory. They were seen by several women in the neighborhood, who neglected to give the alarm on account of their exceeding dread of being summoned before a court. Policeman McCarthy came upon them before they suc-ceeded in getting off with all their plunder, and compelled them to leave three of the stolen caddies behind.

The anniversary of the Episcopal Sunday-School Union of Henrico parish was cele-brated on Sunday afternoon at St. Paul's church. A crowd far beyond the capacity of the building was in attendance, and the lower part of the church was filled with the little folks and their teachers, representing all the different Sunday schools of this denomination. Within the chancel were seated Rev. Dr. Woodbridge (who presided), Rev. Dr. Minnigerode, Rev. Henry Wall, Rev. Dr. Peterkin, Rev. George Peterkin, Rev. T. G. Dashiell, and Rev. - Baker.

The services were introduced by the reading of a part of the Sunday-School liturgy, the children making the responses. This was fol-lowed by an address from Rev. Mr. Wall on the passage, "The Son of Man came to save that which was lost," which he illustrated by some striking anecdotes, making the subject clear to the most childish mind. After more singing, Mr. Baker came for-ward and told the children something about Jesus as a child. Dr. Minnigerode also made an earnest and impressive address; after which, the exercises were concluded with the singing of the Gloria in Excelsis, and prayer. The annual meeting of the Episcopal Sun-day School Union was held at St. Mark's last night. Opening service conducted by Rev. Dr. Peterkin, of St. James. Rev. T. G. Dashiell, Vice-President, in the chair; Captain Charles Dimmock acting secretary.

The annual report was read by the Vice-President, and showed that the Union was in a most flourishing condition. The parish school conducted under the care of this Union has more than surpassed the hopes of its best

Dr. Rosser also addressed the congregation in his usual earnest style, enforcing the lessons taught by Mr. Proctor, and urging the members to put forth every effort to establish the Society upon such a foundation as that it shall become a permanent institution of the Church.

Asa Snyder, president, made a few encouraging remarks, and introduced little Willie Sims, who recited in beautiful style a piece entitled "Coming to Jesus." The following is a summary of the superin-

At Trinity church on Sunday night the Rev. Mr. Proctor preached the first of a series of sermons on the Lord's Prayer, taking as the text the words "Our Father who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name." The gentleman handled his subject in a masterly manner; and for beauty of expression and sound-ness of argument the sermon was remarkable. These sermons will be continued for several Sabbaths. Rev. Dr. Duncan preached at the Broad-Street Methodist church to crowded congregations morning and night, and his discourses were heard with marked attention. Revival meetings are in progress at the Clay-Street Methodist church under the min-istration of the pastor, and the interest on the subject of religion seems to be increasing. On Sunday morning eleven persons were admitted to the church. The meetings will be kept up during the week. PENITENTIARY IMBROGLIO. SIXTH DAY.

The Board met on yesterday morning in pursuance of adjournment. The fellowing vidence was taken : George F. Strother, recalled, testified: Clerkof the Board of Directors. The Board decided witness was not an officer. Was an officer of the institution at one time. Had charge of the penitentiary on two occasionsonce while an officer and another when clerk of the Board. The books will show what bills have been made. Those bills are generally certified by Mr. Wardwell, and then ordered to be paid by the Board. A package of bills was presented to witness, who, after examining them, said that the same were entered or the record. There was no requisition made for the purchase of these articles. The purchases were, however, approved by the Board. Witness was under the impression that the Board knew these bills were not original. Neither the Governor nor the Auditor were apprized of the true state of facts in regard to these bills. Everything that the Superin-tendent got from the penitentiary for his own use is charged to him on the books. Did not know that Governor Peirpoint had issued inv orders forbidding the purchase of these articles. The Superintendent had received money for the hire of convicts. Do not recollect the exact amount. The amount would appear on the books. Some amounts were paid before the 1st of January. The contracts say that the money should be paid to the Superintendent or some person designated by the Governor or by the Superintendent. Se-veral letters passed between the Governor and the Board of Directors in regard to the amount due. The contracts for the hire of these convicts are made at the Secretary of the Commonwealth's office. Did not know if the Superintendent had received any money for bricks or other material. The money for the sale of manufactured articles is paid to Mr. Champlin. This meney is kept in an iron safe. The Superintendent, being responsible for the same, took money from the safe and accounted for it in the general settlement every week. A private book was kept by Mr. Champlin of the amounts withfrawn by the Superintendent from the same. Mr. Wardwell never asked the use of witness's name for the purchase of articles. [Witness here explained how settlements are made every week by the Superintendent and the General Agent.1 Never had heard any conversation between Mr. Wardwell and Mr. Lee, the general agent, relative to the amounts retained by the former for the hire of convicts. Mr. Wardwell had offered to pay over to the General Agent the balance due for the hire of convicts, deducting therefrom amounts of bills for supplies. Mr. Wardwell did not claim that he would retain the money if Mr. Lee accepted as cash the bills of purchase. Some of the amounts received for hire of convicts were in drafts and notes at sixty and ninety days. The bills generally received by the General Agent in settlement were small. Had presided at one of the police courts while an officer of the institution. Did not know of any manufactured articles sent away from the penientiary by the Superin-tendent and not charged on the books. Had known Mr. Wardwell to make presents of shoes to persons, but the same was invariably charged to him. Have known articles to be dent, in the chair. The meeting was large, and the exercises very interesting.

The opening exercises consisted of singing, in beautiful style, by Manchester school, and prayer by Rev. J. A. Proctor.

The meeting was then addressed by Rev. J. A. Proctor on the subject of the "Sunday school as a great instrumentality in the conversion of children and building up the Charge of chair and the conversion of children and building up the Charge of the space for half an hour with was left in charge of the institution on one merchandise, captain. occasion when not an officer, and did exercise his authority as such. While witness knew this was unusual, he did not say anything about it. This fact was known to the Board, but do not recollect if the matter was investi-gated by the Board. Had seen convicts out of the penitentiary in citizen's clothes. The Su-perintendent had been using the prisoners to nind the cows, and employed some at the tables. The former Superintendent (Mr. E. D. Champlin, recalled, testified: Was assistant keeper at the penitentiary. Witness received money for the sale of articles—placed it in the safe. Had known the Superintendent to withdraw money in small sums from the safe. Kept private memorandum-book of receipts for hire of convicts. Witness charged the Superintendent with all amounts received for goods sold, and the Superintendent would account for the same on the settlement every week with the General Agent in cash or its equivalent. There was nothing secret in these transactions. The Superintendent would go to the safe any time he wanted money, and did so before everybody. At the end of the week, when a settlement was made with the General Agent, the Superintendent would either refund the sums so withdrawn or proince bills for supplies furnished the penitenduce bins for supplies furnished the pentical triary. There is $3,800 now due for the hire of convicts not paid over. The Superintendent offered to pay this amount over about three weeks ago. The Superintendent has never sked witness the use of his name for the pur-chose of any article. The Superintendent last settled his account on the loth of April. Has known the Superintendent to fail settling his account but once The Agent refused to receive the bills for coal, hauling, &c., in settlement. [These bills have already been alluded to-during the investigation last week.]

The Superintendent has supplied himself and family with boots and shees from the penitentiary. The same were charged to him. The repairs done to the Superintendent's wagons and carts in the shops of the institution were always charged to him. All the moneys received from contractors are charged to Mr. Wardwell. The Superintendent offered to the General Agent the bills for pur-chases, approved by the directors, together with a check for the difference between the amounts of the said bills and the amounts received for the hire of convicts, but the Agen refused to make a settlement in the manner proposed. After the examination of other witnesse the court adjourned.

The music in this conceit is not of such a strictly artistic character that only musicians can appreciate it, but its blended harmonies will be attractive to all.

The admission to every part of the house has been fixed at 50 cents for adults; children under twelve years of age, half price. This, it is hoped, will render this popular concert accessible to all.

Tickets can be obtained from Mr. T. J. STARKE, or at the book and music stores, and at the door. Passive members of the Association will get their concert tickets from Mr. W. S. Pilcher, assistant treasurer, on Highth street between Main and Cary. it was done without my knowledge and decidedly against my wish, and as I am not an aspirant for official honors I shall most respectfully decline to accept the office to which I have been appointed. B. STARK. MAYWRIN .- This delightful spring beverage is composed of Hock wine and a plant gathered in Germany generally about the first of May. The plant imparts to the wine a delicate and delicious flavor, especially for ladies, and it is a most healthy drink for this season. We are indebted to our friend H. MONTZ, of Broad street, for very fine samples. MOUNTCASTLE, at $29 Broad street, is putting up the latest, the best, and the cheapest lightning-
